RE: TLTA's recommended rate adjustment and revised rate study.

Dear TDI Staff:

The Texas Land Title Association submitted a briefing book entitled Collaborative Rulemaking Proceedings and Setting Title Insurance Rates in November 2018 kicking of the title insurance ratemaking process. The first informal public rate hearing was held on December 19, 2018. At that meeting, Texas Department of Insurance Staff, the Office of the Public Insurance Counsel, TLTA, and members of the public discussed TLTA's proposed rate adjustment.

There have been two developments since the first informal public hearing. The State of Texas Title Insurance Industry Experience Report Compilation for calendar years 2012 to 2016 was published after the actuaries' initial analysis. The actuaries have taken into account this new data and made revisions to their September 14, 2018 report. The impact was minimal. TDI's actuaries also pointed out that the premiums received by title insurance agents for home office issue policies were not included in the rate calculations. The actuaries have revised the rate study to include these premium dollars. This caused the range for a reasonable rate decrease to change from between -3.4% to -7.3% to between -4.4% to -8.1%. The actuaries revised report, dated January 23, 2019, is attached.

TLTA recommends a rate adjustment of -4.4%. A revised rate schedule adopting this rate decrease is attached. My client looks forward to additional discussion with interested parties at the informal public rate hearing scheduled for January 30, 2019. If more information is needed or should you have additional questions, please contact me at cass@burtonbedell.com or 512-705-8880.

Sincerely,

Cass Burton

Qualifications

We, Charles V. Faerber and Khiem D Ngo, are principals with the firm of Rudd and Wisdom, Inc., Consulting Actuaries (Rudd and Wisdom). We are Fellows of the Society of Actuaries, an Associates of the Casualty Actuarial Society and members of the American Academy of Actuaries.

We meet the Academy’s qualification standards for rendering this opinion.

Responsibilities

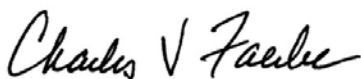

We have been asked by Texas Land and Title Association (TLTA) to conduct a rate study for Texas title insurance agents and companies and review the adequacy of the current title insurance rates. We have relied on historical experience data and program information provided to us by the following:

- State of Texas Title Insurance Industry Experience Reports from 1998 through 2016.
- Texas Title Insurance Statistical Plan data call provided by underwriting companies.
- Annual Statement experience for Underwriting Companies from 2003 through 2016 provided by TDI
- Suggested cost of capital provided by Dr. Jay Hartzell.

Recommendations

Based on our study, a reasonable rate decrease range would be between -4.4% to -8.1%. The table below presents the recommended rate change in additional detail. The averages of the loss, LAE, and expense ratios, weighted by retained premium volume, for the past 10, and 15 years were used to determine the indicated rates. We recommend using at least ten years of financial experience to set the rates due to the cyclical nature of title insurance in order to reduce volatility from year to year. The indicated rate provides a reasonable provision to cover i) expected expense, ii) expected loss & LAE, iii) catastrophic load, and iv) underwriting profit. The indicated rate also considers proposed changes including 1) the impact of increasing the discounts for refinance policies issued within eight years since loan origination, 2) increasing the lowest rate tier from a policy amount of $10,000 to $25,000 and 3) add new rate tiers for policies in excess of $25M.

I. Actuarial Certification

We, Charles V. Faerber and Khiem D. Ngo are principals with the firm of Rudd and Wisdom, Inc., Consulting Actuaries (Rudd and Wisdom). We are Fellows of the Society of Actuaries, Associates of the Casualty Actuarial Society and members of the American Academy of Actuaries.

II. Introduction

Rudd and Wisdom, Inc. has been asked by the Texas Land Title Association (TLTA) to develop indicated rate change for Texas title insurance firms. This report presents the indicated rate change calculations and assumptions used in developing the indicated rates.

Rudd and Wisdom has relied on the following data sources:

- State of Texas Title Insurance Industry Experience Reports from 1998 through 2016.
- Texas Title Insurance Statistical Plan data call provided by underwriting companies.
- Annual Statement experience from 2003 through 2016 provided by Texas Department of Insurance (TDI).
- Suggested cost of capital provided by Dr. Jay Hartzell.

Although the above data was reviewed for reasonableness, Rudd and Wisdom did not audit the data.

III. Overview of the Rating Methodology

This report details the development of the indicated rate for title insurance firms in Texas. The actuarial model used to derive the indicated rate relies primarily on the experience of title insurance companies and agencies in Texas. This includes data from independent agents, affiliated agents, direct operations, and underwriters. The loss, LAE, and expense ratio were compiled and analyzed for each year from 1998 through 2016. The indicated rate provides a reasonable provision to cover i) expected expense, ii) expected loss & LAE, iii) catastrophic load, and iv) underwriting profit. The weighted averages of the loss, LAE, and expense ratios for the past 10 and 15 years were used to determine the indicated rates.

The indicated rate also considers proposed changes including 1) the impact of increasing the discounts for refinance policies issued within eight years since loan origination, 2) increasing the lowest rate tier from a policy amount of $10,000 to $25,000 and 3) add new rate tiers for policies in excess of $25M.

We recommend using at least ten years of financial experience to set the rates due to the cyclical nature of the title insurance industry. There is volatility from year to year and using more years in the experience period has the advantage of smoothing these fluctuations. Based on our study, a reasonable rate decrease range would be between -4.4% to -8.1%.

IV. Underwriting Profit Load

The indicated rates include a profit load provision that together with investment and miscellaneous income provides an adequate return to the title insurance firms considering the capital required, the expenses incurred, and risks involved with selling title insurance.

The suggested cost of capital was provided by Dr. Jay Hartzell. He has recommended using a cost of capital of 13.10%. We removed the return on investment to determine the appropriate underwriting profit load to include in the rates. We have determined the underwriting profit load to be 8.50%. Attachment 3 presents the underwriting profit load calculations.

V. Adjustments to Loss, LAE and Expense Ratio

Re-finance Credit Change

The current rate schedule provides discounted title insurance rates for property owners, who refinance their mortgage loans in the first seven years after the original loan is issued. As part of this rate analysis, we have studied the impact of increasing the discounts to 50% through the first four years since load origination and 25% for years five through eight since load origination. Please note that we do not have historical data for loans refinanced in the eighth year. For the purposes of this analysis, we assumed that the premium volume in year eight is 80% of the premium volume from year seven. Attachment 4 - Exhibit A presents the derivation of the impact of the proposed refinance credit change. We've estimated that this will reduce aggregate premiums by 1.91%.

Increase Lowest Rate Tier

The current rate schedule starts with a policy amount of $10,000. The proposed rate schedule will start with a policy amount of $25,000. Attachment 4 - Exhibit B presents the derivation of the impact of the increasing the lowest rate tier from a policy amount of $10,000 to $25,000. We've estimated this change will increase aggregate premiums by 0.15%.

Add New Large Policy Rate Tiers

The current rate schedule's largest rate tier is policies greater than $25M. The proposed rate schedule will add new rate tiers for policy range $25M-$50M, $50M-$100M and Over $100M. Attachment 4 - Exhibit C presents the derivation of the impact of adding rate tiers for policy in excess of $25M. We've estimated this change will reduce aggregate premiums by 0.18%.

VI. Attachments

Attachment 1 - Summary of Indicated Rate Change

Attachment 1 presents information regarding the suggested rate change. The averages of the loss, LAE, and expense ratios, weighted by retained premium volume, for the past 10, and 15 years were used to determine the indicated rates. We recommend using at least ten years of financial experience to set the rates due to the cyclical nature of title insurance in order to reduce volatility from year to year. The indicated rate was calculated using a profit load of 8.50% based on a cost of capital of 13.1% provided by Dr. Jay Hartzell. The indicated rate provides a reasonable provision to cover i) expected expense, ii) expected loss & LAE, iii) catastrophic load, and iv) underwriting profit. The weighted averages of the loss, LAE, and expense ratios for the past 10 and 15 years were used to determine the indicated rates.

The indicated rate also considers proposed changes including 1) the impact of increasing the discounts for refinance policies issued within eight years since loan origination, 2) increasing the lowest rate tier from a policy amount of $10,000 to $25,000 and 3) add new rate tiers for policies in excess of $25M.

We recommend using at least ten years of financial experience to set the rates due to the cyclical nature of the title insurance industry. There is volatility from year to year and using more years in the experience period has the advantage of smoothing these fluctuations.

Based on our study, a reasonable rate decrease range would be between -4.4% to -8.1%.

Attachment 2 - Summary of Claim and Expense Experience

Attachment 2 presents information regarding on-level premiums, expenses, and losses & LAE from 1998 through 2016. Income and expenses have been adjusted to eliminate the double counting of income and expense arising when underwriters or agents pay another agent for title services. Tax certificates and recording fees were excluded from both income and expense. In addition, expense also excludes damages for bad faith suits, fines or penalties, donations and lobbying expenses, trade association fees, and loss & LAE. A summary of each exhibit in Attachment 2 is shown below. The experience data included in Attachment 2 relied on the Texas Title Insurance Industry Report presented in Attachment 5.

Attachment 3 - Summary of Cost of Capital and Underwriting Profit

The indicated rates include a profit load provision that together with investment income and miscellaneous income provides an adequate return to the title insurance companies and agents.

Exhibit A presents a summary of the development of the target underwriting profit. The cost of capital was determined by Dr. Jay Hartzell to be 13.10%. The pre-tax investment gain (Exhibit 2), financial leverage ratios (Exhibit 2) and the tax rate on investment (Exhibit 3) were used to determine the pre-tax underwriting profit load. We have determined the underwriting profit load to be 8.50% using a 13.10% cost of capital.

Exhibit B presents a summary of the development of the investment returns and financial leverage ratios. We have relied on Annual Statement data from 2003 through 2016 for all companies licensed in Texas. The Annual Statement data for each company does not separate the experience by states other than direct premiums written in Texas. In order to give more weight to companies that do more business in Texas, we used a weighted average of the numbers using direct premiums written in Texas as weights. The average pre-tax gain on invested assets was determined to be 5.5%. The invested asset to capital leverage ratio was determined to be 1.49 and the premium to capital leverage ratio was determined to be 0.91.

Exhibit C presents a summary of the development of the average tax rate on investments. We assumed the tax rate on investment income – tax exempt is 5.25%, tax rate on investment income – dividends is 10% and tax rate of 21% for all other investment income. We have determined that the weighted average tax rate on investment income is 14.28%.

Exhibit A - Refinance Credit Change

The current rate schedule provides discounted title insurance rates for property owners, who refinance their mortgage loans in the first seven years after the original loan is issued. As part of this rate analysis, we have studied the impact of increasing the discounts to 50% through the first four years since load origination and 25% for years five through eight since load origination. Please note that we do not have historical data for loans refinanced in the eighth year. For the purposes of this analysis, we assumed that the premium volume in year eight is 80% of the premium volume from year seven.

The table below presents the current and proposed discounts for refinanced mortgages.

Title Insurance Rate Discounts for Refinanced Mortgages
Years Since Original	Current Discounts	Proposed Discounts
1	40%	50%
2	40%	50%
3	35%	50%
4	30%	50%
5	25%	25%
6	20%	25%
7	15%	25%
8	0%	25%

Refinance data is not provided in the Texas Title Insurance Industry Experience Report. However, refinance data is provided by the Underwriting Company in their statistical plan data call in Schedule S-3 Codes 4001-4007. Refinance policies for the 2012-2016 years were repriced assuming the proposed refinance discounts and the difference in premiums were determined. Please note that not all Underwriting Company submitted data. Our refinance study only included 71.4% of total premiums. As a result, we grossed up the estimated impact of the refinance credit change to estimate the impact to all title companies.

Attachment 4 – Exhibit A presents the derivation of the impact of the proposed refinance credit change. We’ve estimated that this will reduce premiums by 1.91%.

Exhibit B – Increase Lowest Rate Tier

The current rate schedule starts with a policy amount of $10,000. The proposed rate schedule will start with a policy amount of $25,000. We used data from Schedule S-3 of the Texas Title Insurance Industry Experience Report for the Underwriting Company to estimate the impact of this change. Schedule S-3 includes premiums by policy range. We estimated the current and proposed rate by policy range assuming the midpoint of each policy range. We estimated the premiums under the proposed rate schedule by applying an adjustment factor equal to the propose rate divided by the current rate and multiply to the current premiums.

Attachment 4 - Exhibit B presents the derivation of the impact of the increasing the lowest rate tier from a policy limit of $10,000 to $25,000. We've estimated this change will increase aggregate premiums by 0.15%.

Exhibit C – Add New Large Policy Rate Tier

The current rate schedule's largest rate tier is policies greater than $25M. The proposed rate schedule will add new rate tiers for policy range $25M-$50M, $50M-$100M and Over $100M. The table below presents the current and propose large policy rate tiers.

Current Large Policy Rate Tier

[Greater than $100,000,000]	100,000,000	0.00130	200,901

We used data from Schedule S-3 of the Texas Title Insurance Industry Experience Report for the Underwriting Company to estimate the impact of this change. Schedule S-3 includes premiums by policy range. We estimated the current and proposed rate by policy range assuming the midpoint of each policy range. We estimated the premiums under the proposed rate schedule by applying an adjustment factor equal to the propose rate divided by the current rate and multiply to the current premiums.
